

Naturally  Durable

NEW LARCH TIMBER collection

from Jagram

Naturally Durable

For our new product line, we use the beautiful larch wood, which does not require preservatives and is naturally durable. It is from this material that the Italians made the poles on which Venice stands. The lack of harmful preservatives is especially important for vegetable pots.

In addition, larch wood is the hardest and most mechanically resistant wood of conifers.

But this material is not only practical - it also has an unusual warm colour.

Larch - a noble, durable and resistant wood.

Maggie vegetable planters are ideal for growing vegetables and herbs. No need to bend down when working. They have a large growing area and come in different versions - 2 depths, 3 lengths and optional classic black railing. Each version is made from kiln dried larch and is suitable for courier delivery.
